AMENDMENTS TO THE CLAIMS:

Please amend the claims as follows. Please cancel claims 9-12 and 36-39 without prejudice or disclaimer. Please add new claims 56-63.

1.   (Currently Amended) An information terminal having a function of making a call, comprising:

        (a)a communicator making communication with a calling or called party;

        (b)a memory storing at least one exception code; and

        (c)a main control unit, said main control unit (c1)determining an item to be monitored, (c2)judging whether said item meets with a predetermined condition for prohibiting making a call, (c3)judging whether a code of a calling or called party is coincident with said exception code, and (c4)prohibiting making a call, if said predetermined condition is satisfied, and if said code of a calling or called party is not coincident with said exception code.

2.   (Original)   The information terminal as set forth in claim 1, wherein said main control unit allows a desired exception code to be stored in said memory.

3.   (Currently Amended) The information terminal as set forth in claim 1, wherein said main control unit judges whether a clear condition is satisfied or not, and resets said item, if said clear condition is satisfied.

4.   (Original)   The information terminal as set forth in claim 3, further
